

5. Conclusions

The Guideline is a useful source of information for creating regional bicycle network plans and creating safe and comfortable bicycle traveling spaces in Japan. The Guideline will be revised based on technical knowledge obtained in future and revisions of legal standards. The National Institute for Land and Infrastructure Management will also conduct technical studies on the application of the Guideline throughout Japan.

REFERENCES

- Design manual for bicycle traffic (2006), CROW, Netherland
- Empfehlungen für Radverkehrsanlagen (2010), FGSV, Germany
- Recommandations pour les aménagements cyclables (2008), Certu, France
- Guide for the Development of Bicycle Facilities (2012), AASHTO, U. S. A.
- Cycling Aspects of Austroads Guides (2011), Austroads, Australia
- London Cycling Design Standards (2005), Transport for London
- LTN1/04 Policy, Planning and Design for Walking and Cycling (2004), Department for Transport, U. K.